

Popup : Hey, dude...?
Me : Yeh, sup...?
Popup : Wanna like, take a quick survey, or whatever...?
Me : Sure.
Popup : Alright...
Let me get you over to the survey web page...
You mind if I place you on an immediate, split-second hold while I transfer you over...?
Me : Uh...
How IMMEDIATE are we talkin' here...?
Popup : Like, as soon as you press the button...?
A web browser will open, and then you'll be lookin' at some survey questions and stuff.
Me : Oh, wow.
That's pretty immediate...
Popup : I know.
You cool with that...?
Me : Sure.
Popup : Alright, hey-
Me : eyebrows up Sup...?
Popup : You have yourself a wicked nice day, dude.
Thanks for takin' the survey~!
Me : No problem, dude.
Survey : HEY BUDDY, THIS IS A SURVEY.
Me : I know.
Survey : Mind if I get started, askin' you a few questions and stuff...?
Me : Sure.
Survey : Alright.
On a SCALE, from ONE to TEN, ONE being NOT VERY LIKELY, TEN being VERY LIKELY...
How likely would YOU BE to RECOMMEND our software, MALWAREBYTES to OTHER PEOPLE...?
Me : Is there anything HIGHER than VERY LIKELY...?
Survey : Nah, but-
Me : Cause I'd say at least TWENTY-FIVE.
Survey : Oh, wow.
I guess we sorta goofed up by not including THAT as an option, huh...?
Me : It's fine, it's just, you're only able to max out at VERY LIKELY, instead of...
Survey : Instead of...?
Me : ...IMPOSSIBLE TO NOT RECOMMEND...
Survey : Oh, wow.
Sounds like you really like our software...?
Me : Without a doubt.
Survey : Alright, so... you're just gonna spam every answer with a TEN then, aren't ya...?
Me : Yep.
Survey : Look, if there was (1) thing that we could do BETTER, what would it be...?
Me : I don't really know, dude.
That's a really tough question because, I can't think of a single thing to complain about.
If I'll be perfectly honest...
Survey : No, no no, that's cool dude.
writes down says... can't... think... of... a... single... thing... to... complain... about...
That's really good news, dude.
Me : Anything else...?
Survey : squinting Wanna like, write up a review...?
Me : Sure.

My review

Malwarebytes is the best in the industry.

It kicks ass...?

Takes names...?

It's light on its feet...?

And- you're not drowned in an excessive amount of processing overhead like OTHER products on the market.

I've been a system administrator for over 25 years, and over the course of all those years, I've tried basically every product and service in relation to (virus/malware) protection software.

When I realized just how versatile and powerful Malwarebytes truly is...? It is what I use to remove the infections and malware that OTHER VIRUS PROTECTION SOFTWARE DOES NOT FIND OR PROTECT AGAINST.

What I mean is this.

Suppose somebody has NORTON, MCAFEE, or KASPERSKY installed on their system...?

Well, what I ALWAYS do, is:

| 1) remove THAT anti-virus software |
| 2) install Malwarebytes, and then |
3) scan that system with Malwarebytes

99% of the time...?

Malwarebytes FINDS some stuff that the OTHER virus protection software

| 1) FAILED TO DETECT |
| ...as well as... |
2) DO ANYTHING ABOUT

So, in the end, what the hell are people paying money for THAT software for...?

It's actually a REALLY good question.

Well, the guys at SYMANTEC, MCAFEE and KASPERSKY probably get bogged down by all of the PROCESSING OVERHEAD of their software. And THAT'S probably why it seems to MISS some PRETTY IMPORTANT STUFF...

And you know what...?

That's why Malwarebytes is the #1 program that I recommend to EVERYBODY, every single time I

| 1) touch a computer, or... |
2) someone asks me what I'd recommend

That's saying something, isn't it...?

I don't even really put much thought to it anymore.

Person : Hey, what anti-virus software should I u-

Me : Malwarebytes.

Person : ...use...?

Me : Malwarebytes.

Person : How'd you know what I was gonna say...?

Me : You said 'anti-virus software'...

Malwarebytes.

End of the conversation.

It's the best.

The thing is, Microsoft Windows Defender is a pretty good FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE, but when you REALLY gotta throw down the gauntlet, and show everybody who's who, and what's what...?

Malwarebytes. It's like Windows Defender, but with a few extra well-placed kicks to the face.

Who's face...?

Malware's face. That's who.

Don't get caught with your pants down. Get Malwarebytes.
